To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to express my recommendation for Jahvante Tota. Having closely evaluated his performance during Coding Temple's Tech Residency program, an intensive hands-on experience simulating a fast-paced software development environment, I can confidently speak to his technical abilities, strong work ethic, and leadership qualities.

Throughout the program, Jahvante consistently demonstrated strong ownership of his technical contributions and project scope. Whether establishing development environments, solving complex integration issues, or supporting deployment workflows, he consistently took initiative to ensure team success.

Jahvante is an excellent communicator who excels in collaborative settings. When project challenges arose, he stepped up to mediate solutions with tact and professionalism, displaying strong team leadership while actively creating opportunities for his teammates to step into leadership roles.

Hardworking, proactive, and continuously bringing fresh perspectives, Jahvante is a remarkable professional who would be a valuable asset to any software engineering or tech team. Please feel free to contact me at ejimenez@codingtemple.com. if you have any questions or require additional details.

Sincerely,
